La-Mesa Spring Valley School Board Approves Record Budget

Memebers of the La Mesa-Spring Valley Board of Education met Tuesday night and came up with the largest budget in the district's history, a total amounting to $9.3 million for the operation of the schools during the 1967-68 school year.

In two other major moves by the local ruling body, the Board cut the tax rate and voted to wait until next spring to seek a higher tax rate maximum.

The hike in the budget total was close to a million more than last year's budget allotment. Despite the increase, Supt. Glenn Murdock pointed out that increased revenue from a higher assesed valuation and because of any expected increase in aid from the state, it will be possible to slash the area's tax rate to property owners by two cents. Budget speculation in April had seen a possible 14-cent increase in the tax rate, 12 cents more than was finally adopted by the Board.

Murdock said it would be at least a week before the state Legislature makes any decisions on education finance measures. Not until then will the district know how much aid to expect from the state. The district doesn't have to adopt the budget until the first week in August.

In explaining the thinking behind a postponement of action on seeking a higher tax rate, Murdock explained that the current rate of $1.97 for each $100 of assessed valuation will expire in June of next year and it must be raised or extended. If not, the district will be forced to operate on a $1.35 margin.

Murdock foresees an impossible task if the district has to work on such a tax rate. It was reported earlier the school district may seek to combine an election with the Grossmont High School District. That election is scheduled for Oct. 17. The high school district is seeking $6 million in bonds to finance their operation.

Murdock and his three associate and assistant superintendents were awarded pay raises by the Board, along with all other district employes. The raise amounted to 5 per cent for the employes, with Murdock and Associate Supt. David Pascoe receiving salary hikes of about $1,000. Substantial pay increases were also given to Dr. Dale Hobson, assistant superintendent for business and Thomas C. Vandruf, assistant superintendent for personnel.

Pascoe, Hobson, and Vandruff were given three-year contracts, while a decision on Murdock's contract has been postponed. The Board may give Murdock a bigger salary increase, if funds are available.

Lt. Gov. Finch Due Friday

Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch will address Republican Associates members at a noon luncheon Friday, August 4. This will be the first speech in San Diego by a major Sacramento office holder.

The luncheon will be held at the Atlantis restaurant at Sea World. Pat Hyndman will be the luncheon chairman.

Finch was elected the Lt. Gov. of California last year by the greatest margin of votes ever recorded by a candidate to that office.

Finch even polled more votes than the Governor.

Following World War II service in the Marine Corps, Finch was (at age 22) administrative assistant to a Congressman. A few years later he was chairman of the very powerful Los Angeles County Central Committee.

He managed Richard Nixon's Vice-Presidential office from 1953 on and in 1960 at age 34 he was campaign director of Mr. Nixon's bid for the presidency.

Help For the Deserving Needy

George Ritner, a San Diego attorney, has organized some information which he claims will help 8 of the 10 people who find themselves with the proverbial financial toe-in-the-wringer.

His material is based on Chapter 13 Proceedings which is referred to frequently as a Wage Earner Proceeding. It has been called variously "bankruptcy on credit", the legal wonder drug and Lucky 13".

Actually, it can be a boon to the long suffering creditor as well as the tightly squeezed debtor.

Ritner offers a hypothetical case to set the stage for the relief offered by 13.

"I can't keep up with my creditors, says John English.

"My wife got pregnant and lost her job."

"Her pay was to go on the new stereo."

"The finance company calls me at work every day and calls my wife at home. We borrowed on the furniture and missed some payments. They threatened to repossess my car and furniture. If they sell my stuff I would get almost nothing and still have to pay a Deficiency Judgement, attorney's fees and court costs. I'd wind up owing more after all that than I owe right now.

A collection agency is threatening to attach my wages. It'll cost me my job if they do. I can't borrow any more money—even at finance company rates of 30% a year. We're paying interest on interest now.

"My wife's father died in New York and what little money we had put aside for a rainy day was used to pay her expenses back east to the funeral."

The unfortunate plight of John English, who, at the age of 42, is married with two girls, age 6 and 7 and a boy 1½, seems almost hopeless — but many people find themselves in a similar financial involvement. Illness, auto accidents, job layoff, or a wrecked marriage with two separate households to maintain, alimony and child support payments, loss of a second job — all of these can cause a financial bind. An unexpected rise in property taxes, or being called upon to make good a defaulted loan for a friend or relative for whom you were co-signer on a note — these budget upsetting obligations have the same effect.

English said, "I want to pay my debts. I have a good job. If my creditors would work something out. I could eventually pay off. But each one acts like he is the only creditor I have and he wants all the money due him right now.

"Will I have to file bankruptcy?" he wondered.

Ritner's answer is no! People like English do not always have to file bankruptcy to heal their financial wounds.

There is a way he can repay his creditors with honor, without harrassment, without wage attachments, and without having his belongings repossessed.

He can stop his high interest rates from accumulating further, and avoid further law suits with the additional costs that are usually tacked on.

The solution — Chapter 13 procedings can be used by anyone — regardless of income — and the plan is simple. It starts on a rather sensible premise by calling the debtor what he is — a debtor. He is not called a bankrupt.

The debtor files a plan with the Federal Court proposing to repay creditors within a period of up to three years (and sometimes longer). This sharply reduces monthly payments, frequently by more than half.

The court issues its own orders to the creditors restraining them from attaching wages, repossessing property and otherwise interfering with the debtor during the life of the plan.

After the plan is confirmed, payments will be made to a court appointed trustee who will in turn make pro-rate payments to the creditors.

Of course, there are a lot more details than that — but essentially that is it. An attorney experienced in the field knows what to do. Further, the attorney need not be paid in full before he takes the case and files the petition in court.

English's debts totaled $3,250. His take-home pay was $407. His living expenses $308. His monthly obligations were $208. His attorney and he worked out a schedule, with the cooperation of the creditors, whereby he could pay $91.50 a month for three years.

His attorney told him that many people think bankruptcy "washes the slate clean." Few realizes that a bankrupt must continue to pay for all "secured" items and that usually the loan company has friends or relatives signed as co-makers and the loan is collected from these people.

After English's attorney made Chapter 13 arrangements, the man went back to work with a new lease on life. Gone were the worry and harrassment. For the first time in months he could concentrate on his work.

Chapter 13, says Ritner, in skilled hands can work like a wonder drug, giving quick, effective and dramatic results. It has saved many people from the "economic death" and humility of bankruptcy, he points out.

L.G. Teachers Receive Five Per Cent Increase

Lemon Grove teachers and administrators are enjoying an increase in pay which averages five per cent following the district school board's action Monday night.

Byron Netzley, district superintendent, assured the board that additional state revenue will be announced this week to cover the $90,000 the new salary proposals required.

He said the district could anticipate $100,000 in additional state funds "although approval for the funds may not be signed by the governor until Friday," he said.

He said legislature had passed a bill by which the district would receive $11-$15 per child increase in the foundation program. Netzley also pointed to an increase in assessed valuation of more than a million dollars in the Lemon Grove district.

He told the board that the $90,000 could come from budget reserves and a slight increase in property taxes if state funds did not materialize. But he hastened to add that such a situation was not likely.

The board approved the increases. $62,500 will go to teachers; $27,500 goes to classified personnel.

The board also approved the annual budget hearing for Monday at 8 p.m. to which the public is urged to come. The regular meeting will open at 7:30 but the budget section will be started promptly at 8. The budget calls for the expenditure of $2,461,942.

It was pointed out that new insignias will be created and placed on the uniforms of employees, trucks and stationery of the two districts. Oval insignias will read "Otay-La Presa Water Districts."

"The Otay District is the parent district," Chapman pointed out," and La Presa gets its water from the Otay rights."

Chapman said many important decisions are to be reached by the two districts, such as: possible acquisition of Lake Loveland; a sewer project in the Jamacha basin; water reclamation for the green belts, including golf courses and parks; and a sewer system on Otay Mesa, where the state medical prison is being planned.

Encanto Baptists Schedule Narcotics Lecture Sunday

Speaking on one of the major problems of our day, Rev. Eugene McDowell will bring an interesting and informative message at First Baptist-Encanto located at 7166 Jamacha road, S.D. 14, on Sunday, at 9:45 a.m.

Recent reports indicate that approximately twenty percent of the national narcotic problem exists in the State of California, and that Southern California is rapidly emerging as the number one narcotic problem area in the nation. Government statistics reveal the existance of tens of thousnds of heroin addicts in our nation. Though this is the strongest of all known narcotics, there are numerous other substances and derivatives which also cause addiction and habituation.

Fifty percent of the crimes in metropolitan areas of our country are committed by addicts who are desperately trying to support their addiction. This illicit traffic is considered a constant threat to our youth and a growing menace to every community in our nation.

The speaker will be representing the Narcotic Educational Foundation of America which has been located and active in the Los Angeles area for over 25 years. Its office is at 5055 Sunset blvd., in Hollywood. This non-profit organization is engaged in producing sound films, publishing printed literature, both of which are widely distributed over the nation.

'Pill-boards' with "goof-balls" and "benies" are fabricated for law enforcement groups. Speakers are provided for many hundreds of groups a year, including schools, service clubs, church services and organizations, and other community groups.

At the present time it does not appear there is any single or simple solution to this problem. Education and prevention is considered to be the major front and best cure, and will lead to additional controls. Youth must be adequately educated and adults alerted to this growing menace. The public is cordially invited to attend this presentation.

'Sound of Music' At Circle Arts

Circle Arts Theatre presented its second musical of the summer season, this week, for two weeks only — Rogers & Hammerstein's "Sound of Music."

Janet Blair, who has already won the hearts of San Diego audiences on her earlier appearances at the theatre-in-the-round, will be portraying "Maria" and guest star will be John van Dreelen, ruggedly handsome import from Holland, as Captain Von Trapp.

The plot of "The Sound of Music" more or less follows the real life story of a family of singers who delighted concert hall audiences in America and Europe, beginning in the late 1930's — the tale of a group who a few years earlier, living securely and happily in an Austrian castle, would never have imagined that the rise of the Nazis would force them to flee into exile and become performers.

"Sound of Music" will run Tuesday thru Saturday nights at 8:30 p.m.; Sunday nights at 8 p.m., with matinees Saturday and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. All children under 16 may accompany their parents to the matinee performance for only $1.

Vocational Training Helps Advance Handicapped Persons

SACRAMENTO — More than 1,200 handicapped persons were successfully removed from public welfare rolls through vocational rehabilitation during the 1966-67 fiscal year, State Rehabilitation Director Robert E. Howard announced.

This means a savings to the state, county and federal governments of $2.7 to $3 million a year in relief payments alone, he said.

"These public welfare recipients were counseled by the Department of Rehabilitation and trained to become productive workers in California business and industry," Director Howard said.

Of the 1,288 successful rehabilitations, 359 were made under a coperative program with the State Department of Social Welfare in which 21 rehabilitation counselors were assigned to work specifically with welfare recipients.

The $667,000 coperative program will save roughly $800,000 a year in relief payments, Director Howard said. This savings figure is expected to rise dramatically when the 2,647 persons now receiving services under the program are placed in jobs.

"Not only is there a direct savings in welfare costs, but the people we've helped will now be contributing to the economy of their communities, State and nation," Director Howard said.

The rehabilitation approach to handicapped relief recipients involves an intensive, individual program designed for each client. Funds are available for medical aid, physical therapy, retraining and schooling, in any combination deemed necessary by the counselor.

"Oliver" Success Aids Fund Drive

SAN DIEGO — Starlight's financial skies are twinkling a little more brightly.

Encouraged by initial response to its emergency fund drive, Starlight's board of directors auhorized the produc tion of "Oliver!" to continue.

"We have raised $13,00 in the past five days and have $19,000 on hand in cash and pledges," said Mrs. Valerie Post, president of the San Diego Civic Light Opera Association. "This is enough to sustain 'Oliver!', our second summer production."

However, the fund drive will continue, Mrs. Post said, to raise the additional $17,000 necessary to assure production of "Gypsy," the final show on the schedule.

The emergency fund drive started last Monday, when the board faced the alternaive of raising $30,000 or of cancelling the remaining two shows of the season.

U.S. Senator Opposes Wire-Tapping Methods

U. S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel said that he favors anti-wiretap legislation, but that such laws "must not prevent law enforcement authorities throughout the United States from using certain investigative techniques necessary for proper enforcement of the law."

In a statement introduced with letters into the Congressional Record, the Senior Senator from California said that he wanted to curb "the promiscuous and unconstitutional use" of electric eavesdropping devices. A bill to curb wiretapping and eavesdropping is currently pending in the House of Represenatives.

But Kuchel also noted the growing crime rate and "the terror that strikes at the heart of major cities throughout America today" as a reflection of "crime in its most destructive form."

Citing the need for a balance between the interests of privacy and the needs of law enforcement, Kuchel said it can be achieved 'by allowing law enforcement officers the continued use of electronic investigative techniques permitted under the Constitution, with full protection of citizens' rights by such safe-guards as court approval."

Kuchel termed such a compromise "one step forward" against crime.

Kuchel introduced into the Congressional Record a copy of a letter from Evelle J. Younger, District Attorney of Los Angeles County, which supported an anti-wiretap bill for the sake of privacy, "if drafted in such a way as not to prohibit police practices which would otherwise be lawful, and which are not undue invasions of an individual's privacy."

The police practices which Younger mentions include recording or intercepting conversation "with the consent of one of the parties" in such cases as kidnap ransom requests; they also include a provision that "in certain serious cases a court order can be obtained by law enforcement agencies to intercept telephonic communications without the consent of either party."

Kuchel responded to Younger that he would "support legislation to protect the privacy of the public only if it does not unduly limit the activities of legitimate and effective law enforcement."

Fifty thousand Lions attended the convention and an address to conventioneers by Allen Rusk, Secretary of State; praised all Lions' efforts for their world-wide assistance to those who have lost or nearly lost their sight.

Consulting Firms Office Opened By Former Treasurer Betts

California Treasurer Bert A. Betts, who lived on Palm st. in Lemon Grove at the time of his election, this week announced the formation of his own financial consulting firm, Bert A. Betts & Associates, with offices in Sacramento and Beverly Hills, Calif.; and Portland, Oregon.

Betts said the firm would primarily be concerened with the financial problems of states, cities, counties, special districts and other governmental entities, although "we will be involved with the areas of private finance and management consultation as well." The firm will serve all of North America, with emphasis on California and the Western States.

The increasing dependence upon bonds to finance public improvements has had the effect of expanding Betts' ability to serve all levels of government, because of his long experience in marketing bonds and working with the financial centers of America.

Betts served eight years (1959-1967) as California Treasurer, during which he marketed nearly 3½ billion dollars in bonds — an all-time record for a state or municipal official. His record as Treasurer earned for Betts the Louisville Award, presented him in 1963 by the Municipal Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada and designating him the outstanding public fiscal officer in those two nations. He is the only state official ever so honored.

Betts has an extensive financial background, reaching back almost 20 years. He is a Certified Public Accountant, and maintained his own C.P.A. practice prior to his election as Treasurer.

Fatality Rate Drops On California Roads

Sacramento — The fatality rate on the California State highway system dropped to a new all time low in 1966.

Research just completed by the California Division of Highways revealed a rate of 4.47 persons killed for each one hundred million miles of vehicle travel.

More simply stated, 2,191 accidental deaths occurred as traffic moved over 50-billion vehicle miles on 14,08 miles of State highway. The number of miles driven was up to two billion over 1965 but four less people were killed.

The statewide rate — 4.79 — was a new low. Statewide there were 4,830 persons killed and 101-billion miles driven on approximately 165,000 miles of thoroughfare. It is the first time the state rate has been below 5.

Statewide system mileage includes city streets, county roads, state highways and miscellaneous thoroughfares. State highway system mileage includes freeways, expressways and conventional highways.

The death rate on State highways has been going down for the past four years. It was 5.34 in 1963, 5.24 in 1964 and 4.79 in 1965. Had the 1963 rate been in effect during 1966 there would have been 875 more fatalities on State highways.

Although the improved rates are encouraging, State Highway Engineer John Legarra says that Californians still faced with an extremely serious traffic safety problem and cites last year's 4,830 victims as proof of its magnitude.

Factors that have brought about improvements, says Legarra, are law enforcement activities spearheaded by the California Highway Patrol, educational efforts directed by the Department of Motor Vehicles, and cooperation to both from local groups and individual citizens.

Legarra cited the spot improvement program of the Division of Highways as an additional reason for the drop. The latter is a continuing project through which accident-prone locations are identified by a computor

Mr. Blackwell reported the theft of $4 from a childs bank. The burglary occurred while the family was at a church meeting.

Heartland Citizens Inspect S.D. County Emergency Center

San Diego County's new Emergency Operations Center, at 1801 Hacienda drive in Fletcher Hills was shown Saturday to several groups of Heartland citizens during an Open House, William B. Marty, administrative office for civil defense said.

The next regular Open House will be held on Saturday, October 28 from 9 a.m. to noon, he said.

Installation of communications and other technical equipment in the EOC is nearing completion, Marty said. The tours of the facility were conducted by personnel of the County Civil Defense Organization.

The underground emergency center, constructed and equipped by the county at a cost of approximately $200,000, would be the nerve center for operations during an emergency, either natural or war caused.

"It is kept under tight security except for the regular open houses, which are scheduled quarterly," Marty said. "Public visitations are not arranged at other times."

The EOC is equipped to provide a protected headquarters for a staff of 30 trained technicians in time of disaster, he said. Information would be collected over a massive system of governmental and amateur radio networks and telephone communications.

After analysis by a special staff, recommended actions would be dispatched to cities and other governmental agencies, the civil defense administrator said.

The public would be advised and given instructions and news via the Emergency Broadcast System, whose headquarters are located in the ECC. The transmission facilities of KOGO, KCBQ KFMB, KGB, KSON, KSDO and KUDE would be used, Marty said.

S. D. Police Dept. Expands Reserves

The San Diego Police Department is expanding its Police Reserve unit in anticipation for the need of additional manpower created by the City's Bi-Centennial Anniversary in 1969. The Reserve unit will be increased from its current strength of two hundred men to three hundred men.

No ifs, ands or cigarette butts about it — the less you smoke, the lower your risk of heart attack.

Reagan To Star At S.D. $100 Dinner

California's governor, Ronald Reagan, will be principal speaker at a GOP $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner on November 3 at Hotel del Coronado.

A record breaking crowd of more than 1,000 for the traditional event is anticipated.

It will be the 17th annual $100-a-plate dinner to raise funds for GOP election campaigns and to help finance year-round headquarters operations.

The banquet last year drew a crowd of more than 900 to hear Reagan, who becomes the first speaker to address the annual GOP function on three occasions.

Theme of this year's annual dinner will be G.O.P. Victory Anniversary Gala.

The general committee organizing the $100-a-plate dinner will have nearly 50 subcommittees charged with selling tickets in various areas throughout San Diego County, as well as to specific groups and professions.

Tickets go on sale September 7.

Reservations for tickets may be made at Republican Central Committee headquarters, 440 San Diego Trust & Savings Building, or by telephoning 232-6701.

Because a capacity crowd is expected to attend the function, table assignments will be made on a "first-come, first-served" basis.

Five Local Students Honored

Berkeley — More than 5,000 California students, from towns and cities throughout the state, received degrees or professional certificates this year on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

Names of all the 1966-67 degree and certificate winners were announced at Berkeley following a final review of their academic records.

Of the 5,771 California students, 3,878 received bachelor's degrees, representing four years of collegiate study. Another 1,550 received master's degrees (usually one or two years of graduate study) or doctorates (three to five years of graduate study). Professional certificates, mainly for teaching, were awarded to 343.

Each graduating senior has put in an estimated 2,500 hours in college classrooms and laboratories and some 4,000 hours doing "homework."

His four years also represents about an $8,000 investment to cover University fees and personal living expenses. For as many as 60 per cent of the four-year graduates, who may go on for graduate instruction, the investment in time and money will continue.

The following students from Lemon Grove are among the Berkeley students receiving degrees and certificates this month.

(Two asterisks before a name indicates a master's or doctor's degree, one asterisk a certificate. No mark indicates a bachelor's degree.)

Franklin Joseph Bardacke; Jay M. Hudson; Roberta Christy O'Connor; *Veronica Charlotte Field; and Martin John Koenekamp.

Disputed Call, Home Run Mark Defeat For Cajon De Oro Team

A highly-contested call at first base and a crushing sixth inning home-run by Fred Rath provided the death blow for the Cajon de Oro Little League team as it was eliminated from All-Star play via a 1-0 loss to Fletcher Hills last Thursday night at Singing Hills.

Despite a brilliant 11-strikeout performance by Cajon de Oro righthander Mike Pettijohn, the locals could not muster any support for the curveballer.

Pettijohn struck out the first seven batters he faced and was in trouble only once up to the sixth inning. In the third, Jim Lugas and Tom Day stroked singles off Pettijohn but he ended the threat by fanning Mike Wolfe for the third out in the inning.

Cajon de Oro's only real threat of the game came in the top of the sixth, when scrappy Marty Stricker worked Fletcher Hill's pitcher Larry Proctor for a walk to lead off the inning. But Stricker was picked off one out later in a disputed play at first. Manager Dr. Lowell Smith of Cajon de Oro contended that firstbaseman Lugas has shoved Stricker off the bag to make the tag. The umpire stayed with the out call and the locals could not take advantage of two passed balls which occurred later in the frame.

"There was no question in my mind that Marty was pushed off the bag," explained Dr. Smith. "I've seen pictures that show the firstbaseman pushing him."

"That was the biggest play of the game as far as we were concerned. The out put an end to the first big threat we had going against them."

The curve ball that had netted Pettijohn 11 strikeouts going into the sixth inning proved to be the pitch that ended the game. Pettijohn hung his only curve of the day, but Rath was quick to take advantage of it and drove the ball far over the 200-foot centerfield barrier.

"Pettijohn pitched the best game of the season for us," praised Dr. Smith. "They weren't even touching the curve all game. That was by far his best pitch."

"He threw one bad pitch and it turned out it was the one that ended the game," lamented Dr. Smith.

Thirdbaseman Stricker accounted for one of the two Cajon de Oro hits with a single to right in the third. The other hit came off the bat of Steve Smith with two out in the fifth inning.

Fletcher Hills lefthander Proctor also recorded 11 strike outs in the contest and was never in any major trouble.

"I thought we had the strongest team in the tournament," said Dr. Smith. "I know we had the best defense and we had four of the best pitchers."

"I figured we would go a ways in the tournament, but it ended awfully quick," added the two-time all-star coach. "I was proud of the game the boys played."

Cajon de Oro had advanced into the District tournament by defeating La Mesa American and Western in their initial contests two weeks ago. Pettijohn and Rick Baker had recorded the mound wins in those two contests, with Allen Toft powering two home runs and Baker one in the two games.

Fletcher Hills went one to win the district competition.

THE BIG PLAY: In one of the turning points of the game, Cajon de Oro's Marty Stricker, is picked off of first base after walking to lead off the fifth inning. A couple of passed balls and a single came later in the inning but the locals failed to score and lost to Fletcher Hills 1-0. Cajon do Oro coach Dr. Lowell Smith objected the call, indicating that the Fletcher Hill's firstbaseman pushed Stricker off the bag.

STRETCHED OUT: Steve Smith, Cajon de Oro rightfielder is out by a step as the Fletcher Hills firstbaseman makes a brilliant stretch to nip the runner. Opponent was injured on the play, but returned to finish the game.

Mt. Miguel's Chavez Tabbed For Breitbard Hoop Classic

Oscar Chavez, co-player of the year in the Grossmont League basketball race last season, will represent Miguel High on the county team in the first annual College-prep All-Star game a week from Friday at Grossmont College.

Chavez was the lone senior starter on a Mt. Miguel club which came within a whisker of upsetting heavy-favorite San Diego High in the CIF Championships.

Two of San Diego's most successful basketball coaches —Crawford's Jim Sams and Helix' Bob Speidel — will guide the City and County teams in the first annual College Prep All-Star basketball game.

Speidel, recenely named head basketball coach at Santa Ana College, will guide the County All-Stars.

Speidel obtained a 10-day leave-of-absence from his summer job with the Santa Ana Recreation Department to accept the post. This was the last barrier in making it possible to stage the game this year after the sponsors came within a whisker of calling it off until next season.

Speidel was chosen because of a sizzling .663 winning percentage in the last seven years at Helix.

His record of 125 victories and only 64 defeats includes Grossmont League and CIF championships in 1964 and 1966. In 1964 the Highlanders compiled a 27-3 record en route to both titles.

Speidel rates Al Skalecky, CIF player of the year at Helix and a star at San Diego State last season, as the best player he has ever coached.

Speidel, 36, received his bachelor's degree at South East Missouri State and his master's at University of Missouri. Included in his coaching career are five league championships in track.

Grossmont College PE Dept. Offers Fitness

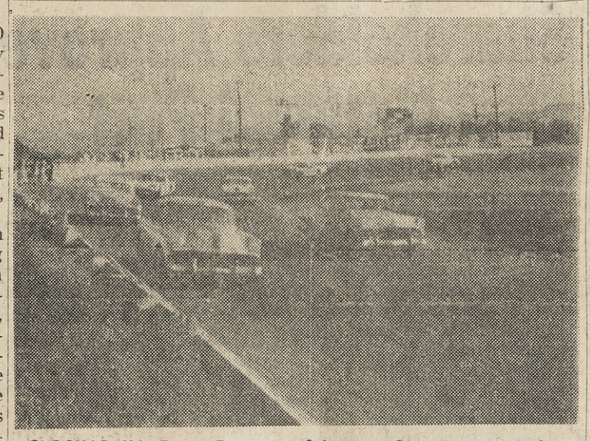
The Grossmont College Physical Education Department will again offer a course in physical fitness for men during the fall semester.

Offered as a community service, the course is tailored to meet the needs of adult males whose occupations deny them the physical activity necessary to good health.

Scheduled to meet from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. each Thursday evening during the fall semester, the course will feature such recreational activities as badminton, volley ball, and hand ball; and a choice of individual sports such as weight lifting, flexibility calisthenics, and runnings.

"Emphasis will be placed on reconditioning and developing heart and lung fitness through recreational and body flexibility exercises," Bill Gillespie, Physical Education Department Instructor, said in describing the course. "There will be no limit on class size and full gymnasium facilities will be provided all men enrolled in the course," Coach Gillespie concluded.

With an application deadline of August 25, men interested in this course are urged to apply now to insure enrollment in the fall. The usual placement examination for enrollment will not be required unless additional courses are taken during the fall semester at Grossmont College. Additional information on enrolling in this course and other courses at Grossmont College may be obtained by contacting the Admissions Office at the college.



CLOSING IN: Dave Parsons of Lemon Grove, car number 301, moves up on the inside as he attempts to catch the leader on the main straight of Cajon Speedway's 3/8 mile oval track.

State Board of Equalization Announces Hike In Tax Rate

Sacramento — The State Board of Equalization announced today that the 1967 tax act contains two tax increases which are of immediate concern to consumers and businessmen. Both of these taxes are administered by the State Board. The first one increases the State sales and use tax rate from 3 to 4% effective August 1. This will bring the combined State and local rate to 5%. The new rate will apply to all taxable retail sales made on and after August 1.

This is the first increase in the State's portion of the sales and use tax since 1949. In 1956, one percent was added for cities and counties wishing to have the State collect their local sales and use taxes.

The conditions of some sales may cause questions about whether the old or new rate applies. In most cases, this title passes to the purchaser will be easy to determine. If on or after August 1, the rate is 5 percent, even though the purchase order was placed with the seller before that date. In those instances where title to the property was transferred to the buyer before August 1, the rate is 4%, even though delivery occurs on or after August 1.

Where the retailer retains title to the property as security until the purchase price is paid, such as in a conditional sales contract, the date the property is transferred to the buyer determines the proper tax rate.

The second immediate tax increase is on cigarettes. The State tax on a standard package of 20 cigarettes will be raised from 3 to 7 cents effective August 1, 1967.

A floor stock tax of 4 cents a package of 20 cigarettes is imposed on any quantities on hand at midnight July 31, 1967. An inventory is required as of 12:01 a.m. August 1, 1967. All known sellers of cigarettes are being mailed floor stock tax returns. Anyone affected who does not receive a return by August 15, 1967, should secure the form from the nearest local Board of Equalization office. The completed return together with the payment of the additional tax must be returned to the Board by August 31.

An additional cigarette tax of 3 cents a package for the benefit of cities and counties will go into effect on October 1, 1967. It is expected that the latter increase will result in a discontinuance of all locally-collected cigarette taxes. Further information on this subject will be mailed to taxpayers by the Board early in September.

Another excise tax increase of less immediacy contained in the legislation just enacted was the State tax on distilled spirits. On August 16th the tax on a gallon of liquor of 100 proof or less will be raised of higher proof the rate will from $1.50 to $2.00. On liquor go from $3.99 to $4.00 a gallon. Full information and floor stock tax returns will be mailed to reach licenses before August 15th.

At the special meeting, First National shareholders voted approval of the proposed acquisition of Heritage-Wilshire National Bank in West Los Angeles. They have 2 branches in the Wilshire District, a branch in Santa Monica, and a permit to establish an office in Pacific Palisades. Deposits of the bank were nearly $15,000,000 on June 30, 1967.

On June 7, First National received approval from its shareholders to merge with Saddleback National Bank, Tustin, and Huntington-Valley Bank, Huntington Beach, and the U. S. Comptroller of the Currency granted approval July 12.

Hardison's Telespanish

It is helpful to know the difference between "esta" and "es." Both words can mean "it is." They can also mean "he is" or "she is."

In the expression "He is my friend." (El es mi amigo.), the word "es" is used. In the expression "He is here." (El esta aqui.), the word "esta" is used. The word "es" is used to indicate character or color. The word "esta" is used to identify locations or temporary conditions.

To be more precise, when we say "He is here." (El esta aqui.), we are identifying the location where "he" is. When we say "He is my friend." (El es mi amigo.), we are saying that it is a part of his character to be "my friend." In the first case we are identifying location and in the second case we are identifying character.

When we identify color as demonstrated in the expression "Mi blusa es blanca." (My blouse is white.), we always use "es" and never use "esta." When we ask "Como esta usted?" (How are you?), we use "esta" because it represents a temporary condition.

Today's lesson contains expressions with "es" and "esta." See if you can locate these words in the phrases. Also see if you can determine the reason why "es" is used in one case and "esta" is used in another.

You may practice these same phrases on your home telephone when you dial 276-2762. An automatic recording will say each word and phrase and provide a pause for you to say the same words. Try it!

IMPORTANT PHRASES
- Say "El esta aqui." (ehl eh-STAH ah-KEE) for "He is here."
- Say "Como esta el." (KOH-moh eh-ESTAH ehl) for "How is he?"

USEFUL PHRASES
- Say "Mi blusa es blanca." (mee BLEW-sah ehs BLAHN-kah) for "My blouse is white."
- Say "Su camisa es roja." (soo kah-MEE-sah ehs ROH-hah) for "Your shirt is red."

OTHER PHRASES
- Say "El camino esta alla." (ehl kah-MEE-noh eh-STAH ah-YAH) for "The road is over there."

Lemon Grove Resident Turns Stamps Into New Adventures

Nepal is an independent country kingdom situated on the northeast frontier o India, lying between longitude 80 15' and 88 10' E and between lattitude 26 20' and 3 10' N. Its extreme length is 525 miles and its breadth varies from 90 to 140 miles. It is bounded on the north by Tibet, on the east by Skkim and West Bengel, and on the south and west by the Indian States of Bikar and Uttar Pradesh. Population is 9,387,661, which is about the population of the state of Texas. Area per square miles is 54,362, roughly equivalent to the State of Arkansas.

The name Nepal is said to have been derived from the name of a Saint Ne-Muni (Nepal, 'the cherished of Ne") who took up his abode near the confluence of the Bagmati and Vishnumati rivers. Originally applying only to the valley of Katmandu, it came to mean, with the Gurkha conquest, the whole of the territories at present incorporated in the state of Nepal. The capital is Katmandu.

These are facts about a small, little-known country surrounded by big-known countries. But to Gabriel Rolo, 28, of 1450 La Corta Circle, and he sent me two books on the stamps of his country, a long with other coins, flags, covers, and assorted cultura objects."

"So actually my writing got me started on the collectio of Nepal. I also had some cor Lemon Grive, everything a bout this nook in the Himala yas has dominated his life fo the past two years-plus.

Gabriel is the current owner and exhibitor of one of the three finest collections of stamps from Nepal in the United States.

"There is a collection in San Francisco which is said to be better than mine," said the ex Navy dental technician, "bu I think mine is the better of the two now."

Mr. Rolo's quick asencion in the ranks of the stamp-collectors can be attributed to ano ther one of his hobbies, one which he considers even more rewarding — writing to pen pals all over the world.

"I acquired a pen-pal in Nepal by the name of Madhasu dan Paj Bhardary, who event ually became private secretary to the King of Nepal. He started sending me stamps on his letters that began my collec tion."

"Eventually I was able to correspond with the King, himself, and he was impressed by my interest in the country respondence with the Dalai Lama. I guess you could compare him with the Pope. He is to Buddhism, what the Pope is to the Roman Catholic Church. He sent me one of the holy robes which he wears."

The stamp collection of Nepal gained for the local resident of two years, two first place finishes at the San Diego County Fair at Del Mar.

"I thought the stamp collection at the Fair was poor this year and I hope to be able to put my collection on exhibit in better competition soon," remarked Gabriel.

He plans to exhibit his stamps at the festivities during San Diego's 200th birthday celebration. The American Philatelic Society is sponsoring the exhibit which will include the world-famous Cardinal Spellman collection.

One of the means by which the conscientious young writer has obtained stamps from all over the world has been through his ingenious version of the chain letter.

"I send a stamped-envelope to one of my pen-pals around the world and have him put one of his stamps in it. He then passes it on to another writing friend, who adds his country's stamp and it goes on with each pen-pal adding a new stamp before it comes back to me.

Other stamp phases which Gabriel is working on are the collection of flower stamps from all over the world and a comparison of the Christmas seals of Denmark, Rhodesia and Mexico.

"I choose those three countries so I would have a representative collection from three different corners of the globe," explained Rolo.

"Stamp collecting has been a fruitful hobby for me," said Gabriel, "but I would have to say that my writing to pen-pals has been the most rewarding experience of my life."

"Through my pen pals I have seen life as it is lived all over the world and I've been associated with many interesting people."

"I've learned the customs, thinking, and habits of various countries and in this way I've been able to appreciate more my own United States."

Mr. Rolo, who also works in local politics, running for the Democratic Central Committee in the 77th district, has some 60 pen-pals in 45 different countries and pictures of most of them.

"I received around two letters a day from all over the globe and try to write at least one leter every night," commented Gabriel.

To aid in his writing program, Rolo is a member of four correspondence organizations, including the Malt Catholic Correspondence Club the People to People Club Spirou — French Magazine and India Correspondence

Gabriel has had some interesting experiences with his pen-pals.

"My correspondence with the Dalai Lama was quite enlightening. He saw how interested I was in learning about Buddhism and he corresponded with some interesting letters."

"I had a writing pal in East Germany for a couple of years He was a professor over there and was shot by the Russians I imagine he was in some kind of political trouble."

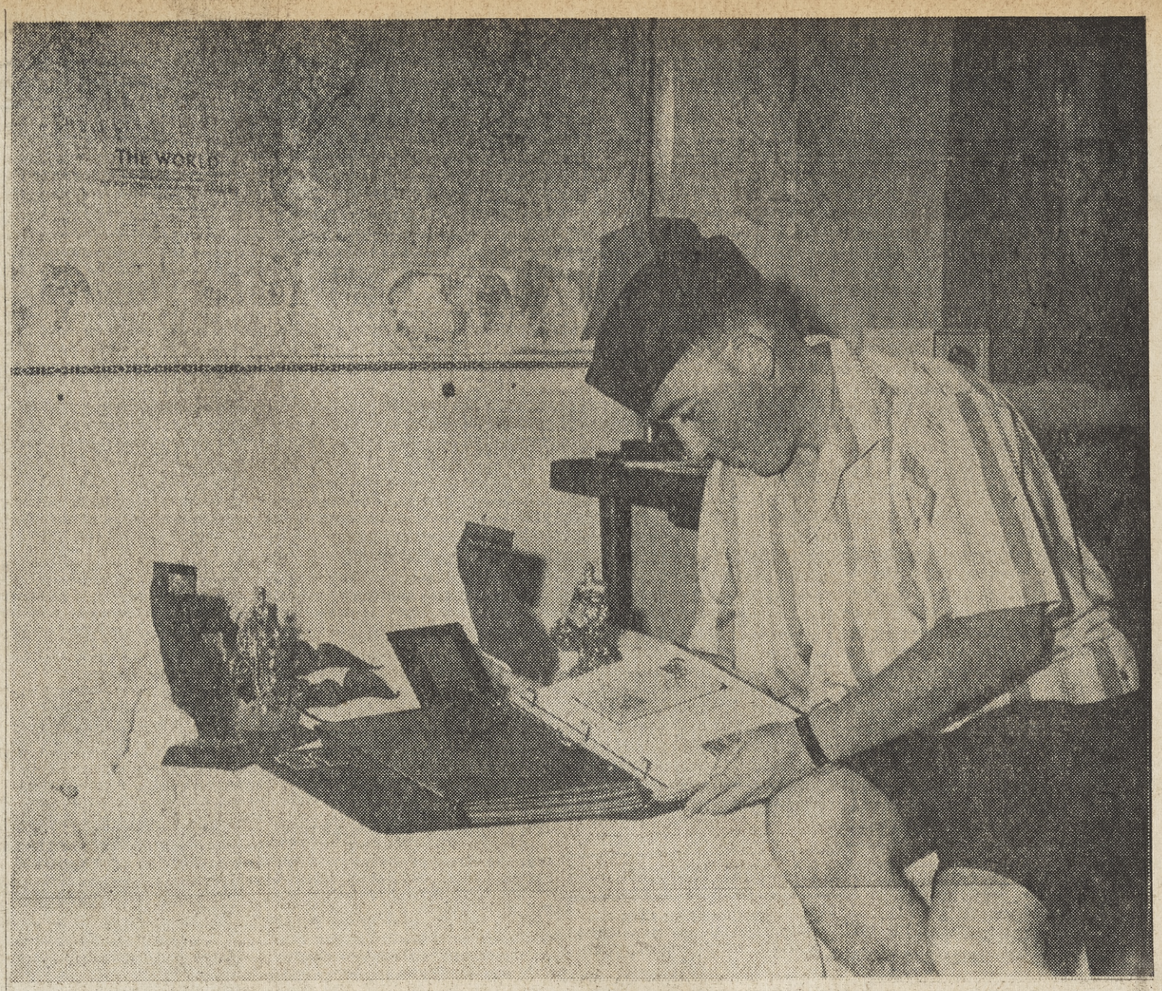
"I have two pen pals in South America who live within a couple of hundred miles of each other and know each other well. But when they want to find out how the other is doing, they always write to me. I'm sort of a news service between the two."

"Right now I'm working on arrangements for a secretarial correspondence course for one of my pen-pals in Africa.

"I could tell you stories from around the world for hours."

"I think my next big project will be to write a book about all my pen pals and the experiences in which I've been involved through my writing. I think it would be the first book of its kind and I know it would make interesting and exciting reading."

Gabriel Rolo has the flair and imagination to make a success out of such a writing adventure. He has turned a normally ordinary, complacent activity like stamp collecting into an adventure. Imagine what he can do with the episodes from the lives of 60 different people from 45 different countries.



PRIZE WINNING COLLECTION: Gabriel Rolo, 28, 1450 La Corta Circle, Lemon Grove, leafs through his award-winning collection of stamps and items from the country of Nepal. The hat Mr. Rolo is wearing is that which many high officials in the country wear. His collection of stamps from Nepal gained him two first place trophies at the San Diego County Fair at Del Mar and rank him among the top three collectors of stamps from that particular country.
